Scope and sequence of our Books

Our books offer step by step progression starting from the simple to the more complex parts of the alphabetic code. Our Dandelion Launchers start by introducing just a few sounds and letters at a time (Stage 1 introduces only five sounds: s, a, t, i, m), so that the reader can experience success from the outset.

All our books have cumulative progression which allows for previous learning to be included as the reader progresses. This ensures what has been learned is included and practiced along the way.

Our Dandelion Readers, Vowel Spelling series introduces vowel teams that many children struggle with. Vowel teams are introduced explicitly and gradually, providing reading practice for children learning increasingly complex spellings in the Alphabetic Code.
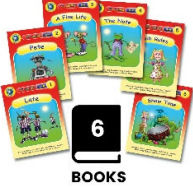

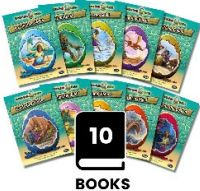

The Dragon Eggs Series consolidates and reinforces the Alphabetic Code. It introduces multiple vowel teams the ten phoneme introduces in each of the ten books. This series is designed for emerging readers who are not yet fluent readers.

Each of our Catch-Up series has a different starting point and educators should assess the student to determine where any intervention should begin. Parallel series offer further practice for students. Our workbooks offer comprehensive pre-reading and post-reading activities to ensure the student has sufficient practice and rehearsal to embed learning.

Every book has the target phonics listed on it so the teacher can identify this with ease. A 'Reading Practice' page in our Catch-Up series help prepare students for a successful reading experience. As the students learn to decode more and more words, they learn new vocabulary. This is listed and explained on the Vocabulary Page.
